

Paddling through the refreshing water Duck swam under a lily pad, around the rock, and toward the trickling, little waterfall.

Cat leaped into the water splashing wildly. His tail pounced off, his whiskers stood on end, and his eyes popped out of his head as he screamed, "I hate this!"

NOTE: How to teach these sentence writing exercises is included in the Smart Start in Language Arts School edition.

© by J. Moore 2001

Permission granted to copy for use with students in the classroom only by the teacher attending this workshop. Reproduction for more than one class, other teachers, or any other purpose is prohibited.