

Sentence Structure: Teach predicate by adding a question word phrase after the verb person + action + how

The clown danced quickly.

person + action + why

The clown danced for fun.

person + action + when

The clown danced at night.

person + action + where

The clown danced down the street.

person + action + what

The clown was/is funny.

State of Being Verbs are used with what predicate

Adjectives:
colour
size
shape
number
other descriptors

person + action + who

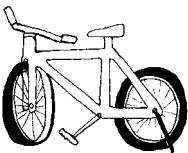

The clown danced for the crowd.

place + action + ? phrase

The castle towered in the distance.
(where phrase)

thing + action + ? phrase

The bike glowed in the dark.
(when phrase)

Sentence Starters: Place the Question Word Phrase at the beginning of to vary sentence starters.

how + person + action

Quickly, the clown danced.

why + person + action

For fun, the clown danced.

when + person + action

At night the clown danced.

where + person + action

Down the street the clown danced.

what + person + action

Adjectives:

colour

size

shape

number

other descriptors

*must use plural noun

Funny clowns are dancing.

who + person + action

For the crowd, the clown danced.